PROJECT REPORT—SINGALONG-SAN ANDRES
WOMEN'S CLUB

MESSAGE

September 16, 1959

Miss Chloe Gifford, president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, said that a project should be worthy, should make a very definite contribution to society, and that there is ample room today for many, many worthwhile projects. We can say without any reservation that the Menu Cook-Book project of the Singalong-San Andres Women's Club begun in 1949 can definitely come up to the above specifications of an excellent project.

Congratulations!

PROJECT REPORT—SINGALONG-SAN ANDRES WOMEN'S CLUB

Soon after the formation of the Singalong-San Andres Women's Club, composed of civic-minded women of the Singalong-San Andres district, a fund-raising campaign was organized. These women, not satisfied with being merely housewives and mothers, felt the need to raise the standards of their particular community life, to build up the morale of their common environment so badly in need of bolstering up after the havoc that the war left behind. In order to constructively fulfill their aims and plans, money must be raised. After several meetings and discussions, the charter members gathered at the home of a member to formalize proposals. Being all good cooks a suggestion was made to print an all-Filipino Cook Book. The idea was for each member to hand in her favorite menu for a day.

This balanced and strictly Filipino menu, based on custom and habit of each particular Filipino family would be compiled, put together and edited, for the use and reference not only of Filipinos but also peoples of other lands who would be interested in our cooking. The idea grew and developed, and seemed like a wonderful way to achieve their goal. Someone also suggested asking recipes and menus from prominent women of Manila and civic leaders, if not gourmets in their own right. At this time the idea of an all-Filipino Cook Book was still a new one. The need was there, but the initial action of doing something about it is forever to the credit of the Singalong-San Andres Women's Club. A lot of recipe books were subsequently published by various other groups both private and public. When the meeting was adjourned, the women members enthusiastically took out pen and pencil and consulting husband and children as to their favorite menus turned in what would be a typical and authentic aspect on Filipino Culinary Art.

Each individual member and contributor had her own way of cooking even dishes of national fame, and as was inevitable duplicate recipes were turned in, but the methods were very seldom the same. Some recipes were handed down thru the years, others top secret formulas but all unselfishly handed in. It was an interesting and eye-opening experience and its success can be judged by initial sales, in mimeograph form for lack of funds, which was sold out.

The next batch was subsequently printed, 500 copies, then 1,000 copies as the demand grew. Fame of the books even reached foreign shores, the club receiving orders from Guam, Honolulu and the United States. Orders were also received from various other clubs and organizations in Manila and the provinces. The cook book was also used as reference on nutrition by the School of Nursing. Today, the little community club of the Singalong-San Andres Women's group has a reserve of P5,000.00 realized from their successful fund raising campaign. The club has some 1,000 copies printed yearly to maintain their project. As a direct result of the success of the idea which grew into a mountain from a little molehill, there are available funds for worthwhile group activities like their annual Christmas party for the poor children of the community. A sewing machine was also bought for the use of the women of the community who cannot afford to buy one.

Mrs. ROSARIO KALAW DE ROXAS

FOREWORD

Cooking has been and still is the time-honored hobby of Filipino women thruout the ages. The reason therefor is not wanting; for under the old order of things, the house used to be the exclusive sphere of activity among them.

Thus, as the years went by, Filipino women acquired so much proficiency in this particular line of human endeavor, until the time came when women wanted to share their favorite dishes with others all over the Islands.

And with the impact of modern civilization, cooking became more of an art. Not only that, it has become more complicated, the more so when the housewife became calory conscious and because prices of foodstuffs have increased considerably. By then, it becomes necessary that the housewife should not only prepare her "menu" for a given occasion in advance, but also she has to be discriminating and exact—to the measure—of the different condiments that a particular dish calls for.

As a fitting impetus for such complex culinary avocation, Filipino women thought it best to compile their special and favorite recipes in the form of "cook books" duly bound, not only for their immediate reference when the occasion so demands but also as a guide to others of their sex spread out thru the length and breadth of the Archipelago.

It was in this spirit that active members of the SINGALONG-SAN ANDRES WOMEN'S CLUB, more particularly in the persons of Mesdames MARIQUITA V. ADRIANO and ROSARIO K. ROXAS, conceived the idea of publishing a cook book of its own. The reception therefor by the public was so well and enthusiastic that demands for the same came not only from the Philippines but also from aliens from abroad, particularly from America.

Such demand was so great that reprinting of our cook book is in order. But we thought that in so doing, we may just as well add some more contemporary recipes, more particularly those prepared by prominent wives of our government leaders, to make our cook book up-to-date, if not varied.

Hence, this new edition which we humbly hope, shall adorn together with the Prayer Book, each and every Filipino home.

Manila, December 10, 1959.

P R E F A C E

Due to the favorable reception given to the Singalong-San Andres Menu Cook Book No. 1, and the continued demand for it both in the Philippines and abroad, the author acceded to the repeated request of fellow-club members and friends to compile the Singalong Menu Cook Book No. II.

This second Menu Cook Book includes recipes and menus for everyday use of an average Filipino housewife and favorite recipes of some of the leading ladies of the community or of their husbands, because they have more occasions to attend and give parties and receptions where foods served are not only delicious and appealing but often unusual:

This book being more or less a Club project — we also include several Filipino delicacies which we have experimented and served during club meetings and sessions of the Club's Slimnastics and Folk Dancing Classes.

We have also made it a point to utilize the fruits and farm products of the Philippines.

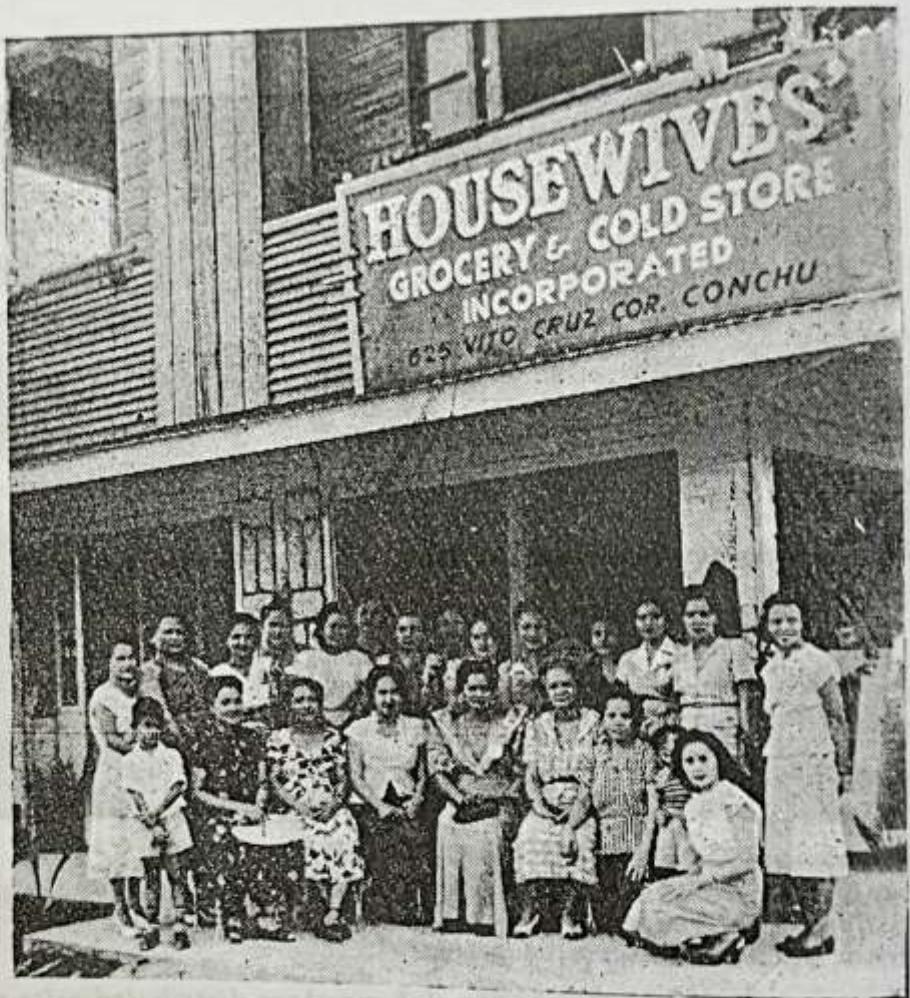

The author wishes to acknowledge with gratitude the constructive criticisms of husbands and members and all the other ladies who have helped make this publication possible.

THE SEVEN BASIC FOODS THAT GIVE ENERGY AND PROTECT HEALTH

- GROUP I — Green and yellow vegetables: lettuce, carrots, string beans, peas, etc. You need one or more servings a day to insure normal growth, good skin condition and to prevent night blindness.
- GROUP II — Citrus fruits: oranges, tomatoes, calamansi, grapefruit, raw cabbage, etc. One or more servings a day are needed to help build healthy connective tissues, strong blood vessels and to prevent bleeding gums.
- GROUP III — Carbohydrate-filled foods: potatoes, corn, beets, squash, etc. Two or more servings a day are needed to insure normal function of the human body.

- GROUP VII — Butter and fats: one or more servings a day are needed to promote growth and help build resistance to diseases.

DICTIONARY OF COOKERY TERMS

BASTE — To spoon over small quantity of the juices in pan (or other liquid) to prevent burning or to add flavor.

BLANCH — To let food stand in hot water for a few minutes and then rinsing with cold water. Skins of ripe tomatoes are easily removed this way.

BRAISE — A method of moist heat cookery. Meat is browned in a little hot fat, then cooked slowly in a covered utensil with a small amount of added liquid. Cook semi-tender or less tender cuts of meat by this method. Pot roast, pork chops or pork steaks, veal chops and steaks, etc.

BREAD — To cover with beaten egg and milk mixture and then finely rolled in cracker or bread crumbs before sauteing or deep-fat frying.

BROIL — To cook by direct heat under a broiler unit. For broiling, buy the small tender cuts such as chops and steaks of beef, ham slices, bacon, pork sausage, and ground meat patties.

CARAMELIZE — To melt dry granulated sugar slowly in a pan over low heat until it turns golden brown and develops caramel flavor.

DEVIL — To sharpen flavor of foods by adding hot seasonings such as hot pepper, mustard, ginger, etc.

DOT — To scatter small bits, such as butter or diced cheese over surface of food.

DREDGE — To sprinkle with flour or other dry ingredients.

FOLD — A method of combining ingredients which prevents loss of much air in beaten or whipped ingredients. Cut down through mixture with mixing spoon, allow bowl of mixing spoon to come in contact with bottom of mixing bowl. Lift some of the mixture from the bottom, bring it up and lay it across the top. Turn the bowl gradually.

GLACE — To coat with a smooth and glossy icing, or thin syrup cooked to the crack state.

JULIENNE — To cut vegetables into match-like strips.

KNEAD — To develop fine texture and elasticity in stiff doughs. Have board and fingers lightly coated with flour. To knead, lift dough with finger tips and fold it over lightly; then press down quickly with the heel of the hand.

MARINATE — To add a French dressing mixture to food and letting it stand to season.

ROAST — To cook in the oven uncovered, without added moisture. A temperature of 325° F. for all roasting. The fat side of the roast should be on top when meat goes into oven. As the meat roasts, the fat melts and runs down over the meat, making basting unnecessary.

SAUTE — To cook, or fry, food in just the small amount of fat needed to keep them from sticking.

SCALD — To bring milk to temperature just under boiling.

SCORE — To cut narrow grooves or gashes into the surface, as, for instance, the criss-cross gashes on a Virginia ham.

STEAM — To cook in steam or over boiling water or baño de maria or double boiler.

STEW or SIMMER — Cooking in liquid just below boiling point. The meat may or may not be browned first. Soups and stews are cooked by this method.

TOSS — To turn salad ingredients over lightly with fork and spoon so that dressing covers all morsels.

WHIP — To beat rapidly, as eggs, cream, gelatine to incorporate air and produce expansion.

As an attempt to help our farmers specially those who are raising plenty of tomatoes, onions, corn and mangoes, we thought of giving these simple recipes. During the tomato season a kaing costs as low as fifty centavos; the price is so cheap that our farmers lose interest in taking them to market. So if they only knew this simple cooking of turning their produce to tomato catsup, pickles and jams, then they will have something to look forward to help their daily meals with the addition of their own farm products. Remove the head of the asuhos (or biya). Slice the meat off the bones on both sides. Roll the meat over the dry flour and dip in the coating before frying.

Remove the skin and entrails of the squids. Take off the legs and cut the main body crosswise into two pieces. Cut each of them in a suitable size and sprinkle with salt and flour. Dip the meat in the coating and fry in hotter oil than other ingredients.

HOME MAKING HINTS

Do Ahead Pastry—Make large amount of pie crust from your well tested recipe. Roll and cut into circles to fit your pie plate. Cover square cardboard slightly larger than the pastry circle with Reynolds Wrapper. Place the pastry circles one on top of the other, separating with the foil. Overwrap with double layers or wrap and store in the freezer.

When needed, take one or two circles and in five minutes they are ready to be fitted into the plates.

Cooking with vinegar is not as easy as it seems — more often than not the resulting dish has what is commonly known as "raw" taste (hilaw). However, this "raw" taste can be avoided if you do the following:

- 1) don't cover the pan once the vinegar has been added; bring mixture to a brisk boil first;
- 2) do not stir when adding the vinegar, rather, let the mixture come to a boil first before you start your stirring. Bear the two things in mind specially when cooking kilawin, paksiw or dinuguan.

* * *

To prevent the water from boiling over when cooking macaroni or spaghetti, add a little cooking oil — about a tablespoon or two — to the water where you plan to boil the macaroni. The cooking oil will not only prevent the water from boiling over but also keep your macaroni from sticking together.

* * *

PIE CRUST SUGGESTION — For quicker cooking of pies, prepare your usual pie crust in advance. Place the dough between two sheets of freezer cellophane, and roll out thin. Next, wrap dough, cellophane and all around a paper cylinder such as paper towels or shelf paper come on. Push the ends of the cellophane down into the center of the tube. Or you can simply leave the dough in balls and put these in cellophane bags. Packaged either way, dough will stay fresh for a long time in the refrigerator.

Many cooks believe this storage actually improves pie crust flavor and texture, so why not try it?

The color and flavor of canned meats can be changed when they are stored in either hot or cold temperatures. A moderately warm, dry place is the best for them.

* * *

To rejuvenate an old lamp shade, apply thin coat of white shellac and sprinkle fine sand on it while wet. When dry, cover with coats of the shellac.

* * *

Before placing freshly cut flowers into a vase, snip off the ends with a sharp knife so that the stems will be able to absorb the water freely. A knife is preferable to scissors, since the latter may pinch the water-conducting tubes.

* * *

Keep cakes from sticking to the baking pans by lining the pans with waxed paper. Grease paper with a bit of oleo.

* * *

Monosodium glutamate, or vetcin, as it is commonly known, flavors food more subtly when added at the very end of cooking. One word of precaution — for the best result, add it just before serving time — don't let it get too hot.

* * *

Here's the right way to measure flour — sift flour first; then lift sifted flour lightly by spoonfuls into your measuring cup; level off by drawing edge of spatula or flat knife across top. Never press flour or shake it down the cup — remember, flour has a tendency to pack.

You can use short-stemmed flowers for your tall vases. All you have to do is to "extend" the stems by inserting them in plastic straws which you can buy from most stores downtown.

  4. As a substitute for commercial yeast, tuba (coconut wine) in a small amount is a good starter.
  5. If you aim to have soft and fluffy hot cakes or pan cakes all ingredients should be well mixed with the exception of B. P. which must be added but unmeasured. (Add B. P. little by little, when bubbles appear stop adding B. P.)

* * *

Mrs. Housewife, are you in search of a great morale builder? Here's a dandy one for you: hang up a mirror somewhere in your kitchen — preferably in a place where you do most of your work, like beside the kitchen sink, or wedged between your row of cabinets. Having one will help you be on the glamour and pleasing side at all times. For surely, you yourself will not like what you see reflected in the mirror if you are not properly combed, made-up or dressed. And besides, you will not only be helping yourself but your family, too — watch their reaction to your always-looking-best-appearance.

Roll ready-to-bake biscuits so each may be wrapped around a cocktail-size frankfurter. Seal the edges well and bake in a very hot oven. Serve the good little rolls with a chutney dip.

* * *

Cereals that are kept covered while cooking are more evenly moist than those that are not covered. A cover also prevents the cereal from forming a dry coating on top.

* * *

Cheese not only contributes calcium and protein, but when it is made from whole milk it is an excellent source of vitamin A and a good source of riboflavin.

* * *

Add chunk-style tuna to tomato sauce and serve over spaghetti.

* * *

Count on having 1 to  $\frac{1}{4}$  cups of syrup from a large (No. 2  $\frac{1}{2}$ ) can of peaches. When you are serving the peach halves as a meat garnish, use the syrup for a pudding.

* * *

Green peas look so pretty in nests of mashed potatoes. Top the peas with strips of pimiento. Small fry like this; oldsters, too!

* * *

To make even-sized meat balls, try this slick trick; spread ground meat mixture smoothly in an ice-cube tray; press the divider down to separate the meat into even-size squares. Remove the divider and form each square into meat balls. Broil or pan-fry, as you wish, and you will see that you will have the most even-size meatballs this side of heaven.

* * *
Keep a small magnet handy at all times—use it to pick up spilled tacks, pins, other bits of metals and what nots.

* * *
Fasten a plastic bag to the grinder or shredder when fixing vegetables. This way there will be no cleaning up to do—and the bag and all go into the refrigerator until they are needed.

* * *
Get rid of the strong odor of cabbage when cooking it—just add a tablespoon of lemon juice to the water where you will cook the cabbage and the unpleasant odor of this vegetable will be eliminated.

* * *
When you come a cut or two from the top of a head of lettuce, turn the leaves down and covering over. A little water will keep the leaves green & crisp.

* * *
There is one simple secret found that won't get wet when it rains. Just lay a piece of aluminum foil over the top of the lettuce and the leaves will stay dry & crisp.

To prevent the yellowing of the tops of lettuce, spinach, etc. &c., wash, wash, wash.
